PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

MR. R. DONER

goal of education, at its simplest, is to produce individuals who are publicly useful and privately happy.

Finally, I wish to thank the staff and students for the support and cooperation they have given me in my first year as Principal.

I extend to the yearbook staff and their supervisor, Mr. Simpson, my congratulations on another fine edition of the Conglomerate. I would like to thank Mr. Simpson for acting as staff advisor for 1985-86 and to welcome back Mr. Croxall as the staff advisor for 1986-87.

This was an exciting year at K.L.C.V.I. This yearbook will serve as a permanent record of the academic achievement and extracurricular activities which play an integral part of a student's education.

This was the inaugural year of the Cooperative Education Program at K.L.C.V.I. Sixteen students went out into the community to explore possible careers from which they gained knowledge and experience at various job placements. We are indebted to the employers who gave these students a chance to further their education through the world of work. I extend my thanks and congratulations to Mr. Bronson and his advisory committee for their untiring efforts to make this educational program a reality for our students.

To our graduates, we bid you farewell, and wish you success in your future endeavours. You leave behind many good memories. We hope you will, in years to come, return to renew old acquaintances. We hope the knowledge you have gained while in attendance at K.L.C.V.I. will help you to lead a happy and fruitful life as the

LADIES, GENTLEMEN, TEACHERS, AND FELLOW GRADUATES:

To begin, I would like to thank all those who have given me the honor and privilege of speaking on behalf of the 1986 GRADE 12 graduating class. Also, I would like to thank the people who have made this day possible for us: our parents, teachers and friends.

Graduation Day, is a day in which, we the graduates shall retrospectively analyze the social, intellectual and academic events while at the Kirkland Lake Collegiate and Vocational Institute. In plain English now, it's time to look back at all the great times we've had and what we've learned at school during the past four years.

On a sunny September day some short time ago, we first wandered into the halls of K.L.C.V.I. As little grade niners, we made our way through the school with feelings of insecurity and bewilderment because of the strange new environment we were facing. For some, it was the beginning of daily rides on a school bus; while for others, it meant getting dressed on their own for the first time. Times were tough, but the end of the year, WE HAD MADE IT! It was a year of adjustment and for learning new things and, relative to the rest of our time at K.L.C.V.I., a year which had few really memorable events.

Then came grade 10. Although some of us were STILL insecure and bewildered, others found themselves in a better world - a world of more friends and more fun, and of course, more learning. We started devoting our time to different things other than studying until all hours as we did before. Rather than burying our faces in physics books and doing English homework, we spent more time at social gatherings, or should I say "ADVENTURES" in LEARNING. More of our spare time was spent at school activities getting to know what went on around us a bit better. Grade 10 established the setting for the two years that followed.

If Grades 11 and 12 had to be described in two words or less; for the majority of this graduating class, those words would be TOTALLY AWESOME". The past two years have been spent learning and enjoying what life has in store for us. We have learned to study, thanks to our teachers with all their great educational tools, tests and home assignments. We have learned to inter-communicate with others with the help of social activities such as school dances, school carnivals and those ski trips to Kanasuta. Through all these learning experiences we've gained the Wisdom, Skill and Integrity needed to be future leaders, and this day is the first step toward proving ourselves truly worthy of the task.

Today does not signify the end of learning for us, it is "the beginning of the rest of our lives". A life of making one important decision after another. The diploma we will receive today will make each of these decisive steps easier. No doubt, our choices will lead us down different pathways. For some of you, this diploma may be the required "TICKET" for that big job at the local mine; or that long-sought after dream of working at the Brewers Retail or for Canada Post. Some of us may go on to become chemists and study bonds, some may become successful surgeons or engineers, while still others may become the next generation of teachers. But then again, a few of you could strike oil or win the Lotto 6-49 and retire happily ever after. Regardless of what the future brings, some of the fondest memories of our lives will be those while attending K.L.C.V.I. We will certainly retain some of the knowledge learned in the classroom; but we will always remember our first kiss at the Halloween Dance and the last one, HOPEFULLY in the 'wee-hours' of this evening. Who knows, maybe sometime in the future we can all get together again to remember these happy years.

In conclusion and in all seriousness, the past 4 years have provided us with the best education available. We have learned the basics and obtained the necessary tools and work habits that will guide us into the future. The REAL results of all of this is that 150 well-adjusted, young Canadians will go forth from this place to meet and fulfill the challenges of all of their dreams and ambitions. No matter what each of you do, I sincerely wish you all the best of Success, Health, Happiness, and Prosperity.

"And Remember...Be Careful Out There!".

Thank You.

VALEDICTORIAN

Mr. Doner, members of staff, fellow students, and parents. Good evening.

I should first like to acknowledge that I am extremely honoured and proud to represent K.L.C.V.I. and the graduating class of '86 as valedictorian. I feel that I am not representing just a group of grade 13 students, but rather a large group of friends. At K.L.C.V.I. we have formed very close comradeships. Through the years we have all relied on each other at sometime, strengthening our relationship. We have all followed a path which began five short years ago and have struggled and edged our way up the ladder to the top. Five years of quizzes, tests, exams, frustration and friendship have led us to this point in our lives. We look not to grade thirteen as an end point but a focal point or stepping stone to our futures. Grade 13 is a level of accomplishment which once you have attained, you can only go higher.

We have a lot of people to thank along the way, and I can think of no better place to start than with the teachers. The teachers at K.L.C.V.I. have endured us, tested us, confused us and yes, they have certainly influenced us. They have always been there for extra help and advice which goes beyond their call of duty. They have taught us the material to be learned, but they have also taught us a little about ourselves. Our graduation here tonight is the result of our combined efforts.

Also, looking back over the past five years, there is one group of people who have supported, encouraged, and tolerated us (they even pretended to believe half the stories we told them). Yes these mysterious people shall not go unthanked. They are our parents. Though we don't always say or show it, they deserve much credit. They are our reason for being here and though we may not think so, they will always be there when we need them. We love you and we owe you the world. Thank God for parents.

The pictures of K.L.C.V.I. that will remain fresh in my thoughts are the memories we shared together.

-Calculus class: need I say more, will we ever forget the massacre tests? Total confusion thanks to our beloved derivatives and primitives. What about those strang noises from the back of the class and the strangest noise of all, Mr. Hill's happy birthday songs. Thanks Sir.

-The Science Resource Room - sacred to most and a haven for all. It was here where half-done homework could be completed with many thanks to those scholars who had theirs done.

-Mr. Puppa's physics class - with a whole host of terminology; admit it grads were you a lump, a sponge or a Ziggy's friend? And who is lumpy shmoo? How many of Thumper's little friends did you discover on your physics tests?

-Functions: We must give the humanitarian award to Mr. Prokopich for his discretion when discussing our personal lives in front of the whole class; the man was merciless.

-Sleeping through Mr. Stratford's geology class - I'll say no more.

-Mr. Orr's English excursions which we always had to beg and plead for.

-I'll mention no names in order to keep them out of jail on grad night but those wild pranks in the caff were priceless.

-And to top the list off, we have the K.L.C.V.I. Christmas Assembly to thank for Kirkland's biggest event ever - "Wrestlemania North" with special appearances by members of the Zulu fan club.

These memories and more I will always treasure.

On leaving K.L.C.V.I. it is hard to believe that in the years to come, these will be looked upon by us as "the good ole days". As we drift in and out of friendships later in life, the friendships we have made in this school are the ones that will truly last forever. With K.L.C.V.I. as our centre point we will always have that one thing in common. With the exception of marriage, we will probably never feel as close to anyone as we feel to each other tonight. It's hard for me to accept that tonight could very well be the last time some of us see each other. As we have reached this plateau together we shall surely branch out in many different directions. All of us, hopefully, successful, some more than others; but that doesn't really matter does it, as long as we achieve the goals we set for ourselves. That's what counts. That's what we measure ourselves by.

I would at this time like to congratulate my fellow graduates. The best of luck in all your endeavours and thank you for being my friends. I couldn't have spent the past five years with any nicer people than you, the graduates. We have truly made it - finally.

Thank you all. Goodnight and God bless.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

This was the year I entered Grade 13.

This was the year that I decided to join Yearbook.

This was the year I should have taken up jogging.

Now don't get me wrong, Yearbook was a learning experience that I won't soon forget, and hopefully the memories in this book are ones that you won't soon forget, but believe me, slaving away on a yearbook is NOT a week at Club Med - it's more like a month's vacation in downtown Beirut.

With this yearbook we tried to achieve an overall feeling of the fun and good times that high school is all about. You know that saying you keep on hearing, "These are the best years of your life, so enjoy them" (or maybe that's just what you wish your parents would say when you get home at 5:00 in the morning), well we're hoping this book will help you remember those times, especially when you go tripping down memory lane 20 years from now.

A lot of work and aggravation went into trying to make this yearbook a success, work which couldn't have been done without the unfailing support and devotion of Mr. A. Simpson, our Staff Advisor. Mike Kitlar in A/V also lent a hand in making this yearbook work by helping us with our photography. And, of course, you aided in making this book what it is, and your co-operation and support is reflected in every page of this book.

I hope you enjoy this book and the adventures and events it conjures. It was made for you to enjoy - so go for it!

GRADE 13...

All through the world depression lay like fog, which is just about all that is missing to lower spirits any further, and there was even a little of that on some desolated boulevard.

Throughout the land families who listen to the news look at one another and say "Goodness me," or "What's next," or "I give up"...

All over the earth people are blaming other people for all the things that are going wrong - the government, the trade unions, the miners, the factory workers, the Army, the Russians, their own idle good-for-nothing offspring, comprehensive education. Nobody knows whose fault it really is, but most people still manage to complain fairly forcefully about somebody.

Mike Cozac

I'M ME

No...I've never walked on the moon.
No...I've never swum the English Channel.
No...either have I won a fight.
The meaning of the word BEST has no significance to me...

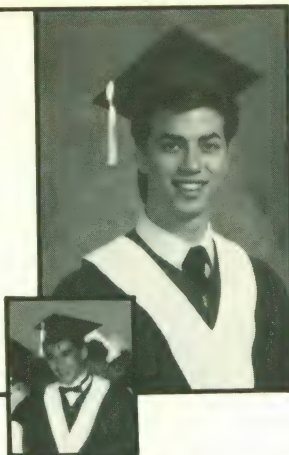

But I've tried my hardest and lived my life to its fullest.

EXCHANGE STUDENT TRINA RENAUD SENDS A MESSAGE FROM SWEDEN

Sometime in Dec.
Across the Atlantic
Somewhere in Sweden 1985-86!

Dearest everyone at good old KLCVI!

Hi there alltihop (everyone)! Remember me?! Yap, it's me, Trina, writing to you live from across the waves in Söderhamn (don't forget them ".." over the "o". It's the Svenska alphabet!) ha! So how the heck ya all doing? I'm just super, fantastic!

Since Rotary gave me the chance to fly across the Atlantic in July sometime and come to the lushious land of blond haired, blue eyed, very good looking Swedish men hm, hm! I thought I should let you in on some of the excitement of my year abroad. So here we go:

School is a riot and is lots of fun, the people are great. The food is delicious (it's beginning to show) and I've decided that the Chinese language is probably easier to learn than the Swedish language! Deb är mycket suärb!!! (Don't forget that "." over the a and the "." over the first "a"! I told you it was hard!

Now that you all know how much fun I'm having (or have had by the time you receive this book) in Sweden, I would like to say what I intended to say in the first place! I would like to wish all of this year's graduates the best of luck in the future but especially all my bestest buddies in this year's "Grade 13 Graduating Class of 1985-86!" I wish I could be in K.L. to celebrate with you all but it's not possible because at this time, like my whole year abroad, I'm having too much fun here in Sweden! Anyway, best of luck to everyone and I hope you eat-- , and be merry!. (You know like our Gr. 12 grad!)

Lots of love
Ditt Svenska Kempis Trina
xoxo

PS Happy Thanksgiving, Merry X-mas, Happy New Year, Merry Valentines, Happy Easter etc., everyone!!!
HAPPY CANADA DAY TO CANADA!!!

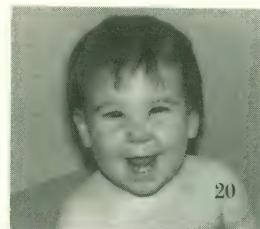

PPS Good Luck to you David Cameron wherever you may be next year. Hope you have as much fun as I'm having.
and last but not least

Thank-you Rotary for giving me this opportunity to spend this unforgettable year abroad and thank-you Mr. Simpson and his yearbook committee for giving me or letting me take up all this space!

See you soon!
Hugs and Kisses
Trina xoxo

Just Another Grain

Like a single grain of sand on the tremendous beach of life,
I look around at the other grains
who are just as lost as I.
I recognize somebody,
and smile to say hello,
but realize that it is just another grain.
Lost, Lonely
I sit as I am pushed around and stepped on.
I wonder to myself
whether anyone cares, whether anyone knows me
as a person not a grain and I wonder whether I will ever matter, whether I will ever be a real member of the huge beach
as I so long to be.

Then I see you and you smile at me
And I wonder no more.

WHERE THE BOYS ARE '86.

MEMORIES ON MY WALL

I see your picture on my wall
It hurts me even more.
We used to be the best of friends.
“What is THAT up there for?”

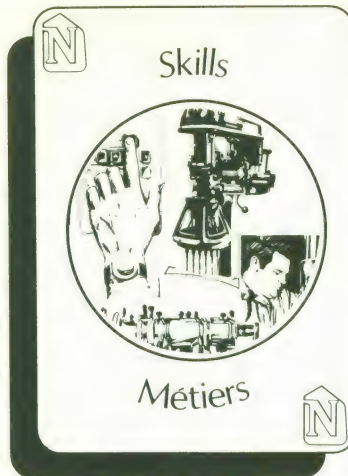

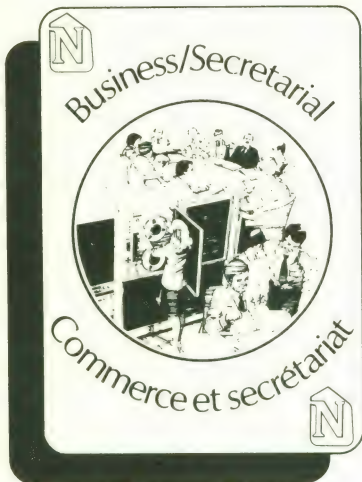

We had good times, you and I
I could be myself with you.
You helped me open up; mature,
In the time we spent, I grew.

We laughed and loved, we dreamed and sang,
And when our songs were sung,
We realized we'd grown apart.
Our friendship now was gone.

I still think of you and in my mind
You remain my friend
But those are dreams, I realize.
I smile and look again.

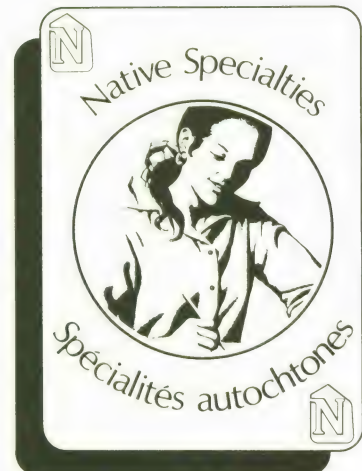

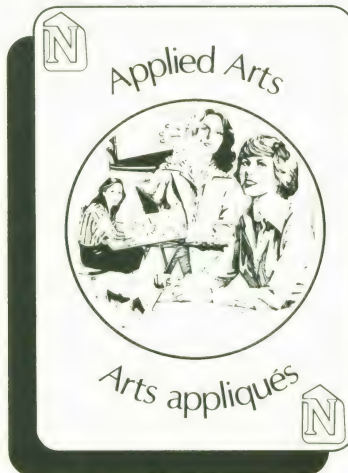

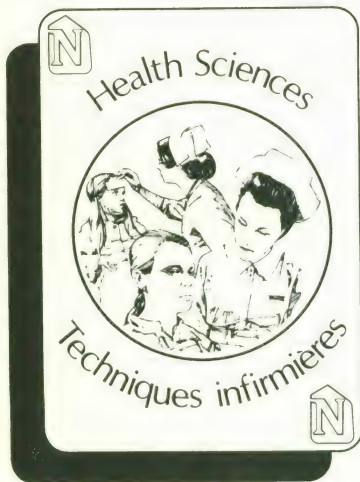

I know now why it's up there;
Your picture on my wall;
'Cause deep, way down inside my heart,
You haven't left at all.

Susan Conway

Time to make up your mind

You're ready to take on the world. Looking around for the right spot.
And you want to be sure in your own mind that you're making the best decision.

We're looking for people who can make decisions; who like to tackle problems and come up with the right answers.

We believe a job well done deserves good pay and we pay for performance.
